

You're holding a very special DVD that very nearly didn't happen. Stewart Lee's tour de force, 90s Comedian, has been dubbed so controversial (along with his directing debut Jerry Springer – the Opera) that none of the big DVD manufacturers would touch it with a barge pole. Which is a shame, and is why the fearless Go Faster Stripe stepped in and offered to organise a special one-off evening's performance to capture this man's unmitigated comedic genius and preserve it on DVD for posterity. Although it looks suspicious, this is none of your bootleg crap – it's all proper with special features like an interviewette, extra special cut-out bits, a photo gallery – oh, and a script for a Joe Pasquale joke.

"Undeniable masterclass in comedy craftsmanship"
 London Evening Standard "Impresses and appals in equal measure – the eminence grise of comedy"
 Independent // "Stand-up that should win the Booker prize" Time Out // "The most cerebral stand-up in the country" Glasgow Herald // "Ill-judged and gratuitously offensive" Daily Telegraph
"Utterly fearless and totally brilliant... exhilaratingly and wonderfully appalling" Scotsman
"Awkward and thrilling" Times

You can buy more DVDs like this one at www.gofasterstripe.com

www.stewartlee.co.uk

Go
 Faster
 Stripe.com

Region 0 - PAL
 Main feature 16:9 anamorphic
 Extras 4:3

GFS-1

STEWART LEE
 90s COMEDIAN

STEWART LEE 90s COMEDIAN

