

Here at Go Faster Mansions, we are proud to present the not-long-awaited sequel to The Best Of Earth, Wind & Fire & Water, the first, exclusive, brand new, not-topical podcast CD from Andrew Collins and Richard Herring. For continuity, it too was professionally recorded in a studio, except this time with a Russian literary theme.

WAR 1h 6' 36" What is it good for? A roll-call of all Andrew's Action Men, a nostalgic look back at life in the shadow of the neutron bomb, the insulting numbering of world wars and a reasoned discussion about the New Pearl Harbour.

PEACE 1h 6' 36" Sticking two peace-increasing fingers up to John Lennon's lyrics, lucid dreaming without recourse to illegal marijuana, Shaggy's unlikely relatives, and a talk Richard's parents went to about dirty bombs.

CRIME 1h 6' 36" A charge sheet is read out, including: theft of a Twix, some deodorants, pick'n'mix and a hairdryer; failing to use the rear-view mirror, straying from one travel zone into another, and child murder.

PUNISHMENT 1h 6' 36" In the same casual manner, Diana Mitford survives internment in Holloway in 1940, a cat is sprayed with water, Richard has a Twitter debate about stoning, and the existence of God is proved/disproved, slightly off-topic.

POETRY CORNER 19' 50" Andrew and Richard present a smackdown of their late teenage verse: Dream Vietnam, Untitled, Skeletons, The Statue, House, Tom's Life and Street.

Remember if feeling bored
The pen is mightier than the sword
So write
Don't fight
RK Herring

LIVE CARDIFF PODCAST 1h 11' 15" Never-before-seen live podcast show, filmed at Cardiff's Masonic Hall on 3 November 2010 – it's the one where Andrew goes a bit nuts.

This disc contains mp3 files that you can copy to your ipod, and videos that you can play in your DVD player.

Not written but performed by Andrew Collins and Richard Herring
Produced and recorded at Ty Cerdd in the still-magnificent Wales Millennium Centre, Cardiff, 3 November 2010 by Chris Evans and Felix Otaola
