

We are proud (and a bit bowled over to be perfectly honest) to be able to bring you the clever comedy giant that is Richard Herring, preserved for some of eternity on this clever shiny disk thing. Who would have thought that GFStripe would once again coerce a seasoned and hugely respected comedy giant to stake his entire career and reputation with a diminutive outfit like us? In his excellent Someone Likes Yoghurt Herring shares with us his world of gonorrhoea-transmitting magpies, his attempts to become successor to Pope John Paul II, and his local supermarket's utterly humiliating new checkout service: the grocery interrogation.

"Herring delivers the sexiest, most seductive comedy on the Fringe... a masterful comedian."  edinburghguide.com / "Lively, hilarious, part-sublime, part-ridiculous... If only more Edinburgh shows were like this." * Chortle / "Irritating, relentless, pathetic, petty, pedantic, arrogant, embarrassing, pointless and endlessly funny." Stewart Lee, Sunday Times / "Brilliant A triumphant experiment in the art of tedium" * Fest / "The most splendid paranoid rant I have ever witnessed on the subject of yoghurt" Daily Mail / Daily Telegraph Worst Comedy Experience 2005
